Mr Johnson's thesis can be summarized without much difficulty after generations of extravagant and reckless industrial expansion we are clearly entering an age of economic scarcity while human demands continue to rise natural resources especially the non renewable kind become harder to find and more expensive to extract process transport and distribute this simple brute fact is the basic cause of inflation despite the inability of most professional economists to see it the dismal science has never been more dismally obtuse than it is today the law of diminishing returns is coming into effect technological developments can delay the process but not halt or reverse it nor can we rely on government or big business to save us planning for further growth delays the adjustments that must be made makes a fair sharing of necessary sacrifices more troublesome and if carried too far will make more severe and painful because rapid the inevitable decline of the international economic machine the best way to deal with the end of affluence is to accept it not fight it and to begin here and now the unavoidable adaptations on an individual family and community basis piecemeal experimental and muddling

in response to the coming impact of peak oil john michael greer helps us envision the transition from an industrial society to a sustainable ecotechnic world not returning to the past but creating a society that supports relatively advanced technology on a sustainable resource base fusing human ecology and history this book challenges assumptions held by mainstream and alternative thinkers about the evolution of human societies human societies like ecosystems evolve in complex and unpredictable ways making it futile to try to impose rigid ideological forms on the patterns of evolutionary change instead social change must explore many pathways over which we have no control the troubling and exhilarating prospect of an open ended future he proposes requires dissensus a deliberate acceptance of radical diversity that widens the range of potential approaches to infinity written in three parts the book places the present crisis of the industrial world in its historical and ecological context in part one part two explores the toolkit for ecotechnic age and part three opens a door to the complexity of future visions for anyone concerned about peak oil and the future of the industrial society this book provides a solid analysis of how we got to where we are and a practical toolkit to prepare for the future
